UNITING BHARAT

Mobility is the foundation of a connected nation. Buses form the most extensive and accessible mode of passenger transport in India, providing critical last-mile connectivity and reaching the nook and corner of the country. If local trains are the lifeline of Mumbai, buses are the lifeline of Bharat, carrying far more passengers every day than air, metro, or rail.

Daily Passenger Movement in India (Approx.)

Air Travel
~5 Lakh passengers / day

- Long-distance, premium travel
- Less than 1% of daily commuters

Railways & Metro
~4 Cr. passengers / day

- Backbone of long & medium distance travel
- Mass connectivity across states

Bus Transport (Public + Private)
~40 Cr. passengers / day

- Largest mover of people in India
- Urban, rural & last-mile connectivity
- Serves cities, towns, villages & highways

Why Buses Matter Most

- ▶ Move 2-4x more people than trains daily
- ▶ Carry 100x more passengers than flights
- ▶ Support livelihoods, education & healthcare
- ▶ Enable affordable mobility for all income groups
- ▶ Critical to India's public transport ecosystem
